LONDON, October 15.

WE are informed that, beſides the ſtrong conteſt for members for the county of Cumberland, the preſent conteſt for the city of Carliſle is the greateſt almoſt ever known, every public houſe in the city having been for ſome time paſt open, either in behalf of the famous governor Johnſtone, late of Weſt-Florida, and the brave capt. Elliott, ſupported by the Bute and Lowther intereſts, of Lord Edward Bentinck and Sir George Moſgrave, ſupported by the Portland and Devonſhire intereſts.

Hanover, September 25. An effectual method to keep horſes from being moleſted with flies and other inſects, has been inſerted in the Leipſick news-paper, and conſiſts in nothing more than rubbing them every morning with walnut leaves.

Rome, September 23. Numbers of Spaniſh Jeſuits daily arrive here from Corſica, and the Pope ſecularizes thoſe that apply.

London, October 17. We are informed, that Mrs. Bowes, mother of the Right Honourable the Counteſs of Strathmore, will ſhortly be created a Peereſs of England in her own right.

We hear that a ſtate of the royal foreſts, chaces and waſte-lands in the kingdom is ordered to be made out previous to the meeting of an auguſt aſſembly.

By a gentleman lately arrived from Breſt, we are informed, that two men of war of 74 guns each, of a new conſtruction, are building there, and finiſhing with the utmoſt expedition: the plan is ſaid to have been taken from a deſign of the late Lord Anſon, and carried thither by one of our own diſcharged artificers.

Some advices received at Leghorn from Conſtantinople, mention, that the malcontents of Georgia, had lately broke out in a freſh rebellion againſt the Grand Signior.

October 20. It is confidently ſaid, that the government, ſeeing the great advantages which may ariſe from the forming a ſettlement beyond the mountains in North-America, have reſolved on eſtabliſhing a colony on the forks of the Ohio, in the country of the Illinois, which lies between the 36th and 37th degrees of northern latitude.

We hear that the intended new ſettlement on the Ohio, is the fineſt land in all North-America; and that the brave veteran, General Lyman, is to be made governor thereof, on account of his diſtinguiſhed merit and great ſervices during the laſt war in that country.

They write from Madrid, that the King of Spain has iſſued an edict, by advice of his council, for maintaining the canonical and monaſtic diſcipline, and preventing eccleſiaſtics from carrying on any kind of commerce or traffic.

October 22. Colonel Weſt, groom of the chambers to his late royal highneſs the Duke of York, is appointed maſter of the horſe to his royal highneſs the Duke of Glouceſter.

It is ſaid, that Col. Worge will be appointed governor of Minorca.

The laſt letters from Newfoundland mention, that commodore Palliſer, ſince his arrival, had been aſhore ſeveral times to viſit the Indians on the Labrador coaſt, in alliance with the Engliſh; and that they were highly pleaſed with the preſents brought them from England.

They write from Copenhagen, that two crown engineers had juſt ſet out, by order of his Majeſty, to ſurvey the fortifications of Elſinore, which were if poſſible to be augmented with ſome additional works.

Extract of a letter from Paris, October 10.

"The following odd adventure happened lately, one Mademoiſelle Perrault was miſtreſs to two gentlemen of reſpectable rank; who poſſeſſed her in common, and gave her thoſe ſhameful wages of pleaſure that equally diſhonour the hand which beſtows and which receives them. Theſe gentlemen, growing tired of their connection and their expences, refuſed to marry her to ſome perſon. This lady had a third lover, who made her no preſents, but ſhe liked him much; however, when a ſettlement was propoſed to her, ſhe examined herſelf, and found ſhe was capable of reforming; ſhe thought ſhe heard conſcience reproach her for the life ſhe had led: in ſhort ſhe promiſed to accept of a huſband, and promiſed herſelf to be faithful to him. In this reſolution ſhe informed her favourite lover, that ſhe muſt entirely and irreverſibly break off all intercourſe with him: he fell on his knees, cried, raved, and practiſed every thing which paſſion could ſuggeſt to him, in order to make her relent: he ſucceeded not, rage uniting with deſpair, he drew his dagger and ſtabbed her. Repentance follows ſoon; he ſaw the heinouſneſs of the action he had committed, and went immediately and drowned himſelf."

October 24. A letter from Paris, dated October 9, ſays, "They write from Breſt, that a ſhip is arrived there, on board of which were brought, from the iſlands of St. Pierre and Miquelon, 80 Acadians, who make 25 families, which were ordered by the miniſtry to be brought to France, on account of the miſery they were reduced to, and the hardſhips they ſuffered from the Engliſh on account of the cod fiſhery."

They write from Paris, that an ingenious mechaniſt of that city has lately finiſhed a moveable ſaloon of a very extraordinary nature, which conſiſts of a fine room, 20 feet ſquare, whoſe carving, gilding, and other ornaments, vie with any in Europe, and may be taken to pieces, and packed up with all the glaſs windows, even to the marble chimney-piece and the glaſs windows.

In Lenham church, new Maidſtone in Kent, there is the tomb of Robert Honeywood, Eſq; which expreſſes, that he was the grand-child of Mrs. Mary Honeywood, of Charing, who had at her deceaſe, lawfully deſcended from her, 367 children, viz. 16 of her own body, 114 grand-children, 228 great grand children, and 9 great great grand-children.

It is ſaid that the provincial troops who ſerved in America the laſt war, and hitherto have had no reward of lands, as the reſt of his Majeſty's troops who ſerved there, are to have lands given them in the new government that is to be formed on the Miſſiſippi.

Lately died at Ghent, in Flanders, the famous Jenny Cameron, miſtreſs to the Pretender, at the time of the rebellion in the year 1745.

The Rev. Mr. Whitaker, and the Rev. Mr. Occum, the Indian preachers, both now in England, mention collections for eſtabliſhing ſchools for teaching the Indian children agriculture, and the chriſtian religion, which is to be formed on

A cyder-maker in Berkſhire had agreed with a farmer to give him ten guineas a year for his orchard of apples for ſome years paſt, and in a plentiful year the farmer was to have five ſacks of apples for his own uſe; but in a ſcarce year was to have but three. This year he kept but two ſacks, and gave the cyder-maker the remainder, which was but ten apples, for which he received ten guineas.

Yeſterday John Pitt, Eſq; member for Wareham in Dorſetſhire, kiſſed his majeſty's hand on being appointed ſurveyor general of his majeſty's woods, North and South of Trent, in the room of the late Sir Edmund Thomas, Bart.

Extract of a letter from Warſaw, October 7.

"On the night between the 3d and 4th of this month, a reinforcement of Ruſſian grenadiers entered this city; ſo that there are now here three battalions of that nation, beſides Coſſacks. A conſiderable body of troops of the ſame nation, under the command of five Major Generals, is poſted within five miles of this capital, with orders for keeping in readineſs for action in caſe of need.

"On the 5th the extraordinary dyet was opened with the uſual formalities, when the King made a pathetic ſpeech to the aſſembly, exhorting them to concord; which was followed by another from the Biſhop of Cracow. They did not break up till four in the afternoon; and met again next day, and ſat till three: but as the affair of the Diſſidents, which was firſt brought on the carpet, met with great oppoſition, they then adjourned to the twelfth of this month."

Another letter from Warſaw, ſays, "A certain ambaſſador has warned the eccleſiaſticks of Poland and Lithuania, in very ſerious terms, to beware of increaſing the ferment about religion."

Lisbon, September 15. Although the court keeps ſecret the diſpatches received from Rio-Janeiro, nevertheleſs many perſons conjecture, that the Jeſuits have ſe'zed the gold mines of the crown in Paraguay. There have been already ſent, at two different times, a reinforcement of 6000 men; and another of 3500, is ordered to follow in a fortnight.

Banks of the Viſtula, October 2. In ſome parts of the kingdom, particularly in the palatinates of Cracow and Volhinia, the peaſants, encouraged no doubt, by the general cry of liberty and equality, have made ſome movements, which in their preſent ſtate, partake a little of the nature of a revolt. It is true that in Poland, as well as in ſome other countries, they begin now to perceive, that the ſervitude in which the peaſants are held, is repugnant to the principles of chriſtianity, and that the public good ſuffers too much not to aboliſh it. If they ſucceed ſo far, this age will furniſh, in the hiſtory of that country, events that will make no mean figure. Denmark has already ſet the example, and Ruſſia ſeems diſpoſed to follow it.

Warſaw, October 7. The ſpeech of the Biſhop of Cracovia at the opening of the Dyet is printed, and contains four pages in folio. That prelate repeated almoſt the ſame things that he ſaid at the preceding Dyet. He particularly took notice of the oath taken by the King upon his acceſſion to the throne, by which he engaged to maintain the catholic faith; and he concluded his ſpeech with obſerving, that it was not ſufficient for his Majeſty to bear the title of an orthodox King, but that he ſhould be ſo in reality.

Warſaw, October 7. The great oppoſition that was made to the affair of the Diſſidents, having induced the Prince de Radzivil to adjourn the next meeting of the Dyet to the 12th inſtant; a proper method of treating upon this affair will be concerted during this interval. Before the opening of the Dyet it was thought that the beſt expedient would be to appoint a commiſſion out of the three orders of the ſtate, to meet at the Ruſſian ambaſſador's and conſult with him about it; but this was violently oppoſed by ſeveral of the Magnats, and particularly by the Biſhop of Cracovia, and therefore it is thought cannot take place. At the ſame time the Ruſſian ambaſſador ſtrenuouſly inſiſts upon having the pretentions of the Diſſidents ſettled by the preſent Dyet, and not put off to a future time.

Bourdeaux, Sept. 28. So great a drought prevails in this province, that in ſome places guards are poſted at the ſprings, to prevent their being entirely drained; water is given out by a bottle at a time, and even this is not to be obtained without ſome difficulty. Seven ſhips are lately arrived here from our colonies of Martinico, St. Domingo, &c. laden with ſugar, coffee, and indigo.

Paris, October 5. We learn from Breſt, that by order of the king they are fitting out there ſome ſhips to tranſport to the iſland of Guadaloupe 476 men of the regiment of Vermandois.

Extract of a letter from Parkgate, October 15.

"A very odd affair happened a few days ago on board a ſhip that lay in the Offing bound for Dublin, as follows: — A young ſoldier of fortune having charmed the old relict of a deceaſed cheeſemonger ſo far as to accept him in marriage, ſoon grew ſick of his wife, and the neighbourhood of Thames-ſtreet, both which he quitted as ſoon as he had found an opportunity of converting all matters into ready caſh that he could wheedle her out of, and made the beſt of his way to Cheſter, on an expedition to Ireland, inſtead of going on a ſhooting party with ſome gentlemen, under which pretence he had left his lady well ſatisfied with his leaving London for a few days; whilſt waiting for a fair wind, he took a fancy to a monkey of the Marmoſette kind, which having purchaſed, he carried on board with him, and faſtened to a chain to the foot of his bed in the great cabin; but the creature having by ſome means obtain'd his freedom in the night, as ſoon as day-light appeared got to his maſter's trunk, which he had carelеſſly left open, and taken his bags out, one by one, which contained gold to the amount of 2000 guineas. He amuſed himſelf with ſlinging them by handfuls out of the cabin window into the ſea, until he had quite emptied three of their contents, and was hard at work on the fourth, when the Captain's coming down put a check to his progreſs; but inſtead of coaxing him to deliver the reſidue, the Captain very imprudently catched up a ſtick, and advancing to chaſtiſe him, Pug made a precipitate flight out of the window, and with the remainder of the treaſure was buried in the deep. The juſtice of providence manifeſted itſelf greatly in the puniſhment of the treacherous huſband: But one cannot help laughing at the means whereby it came about, and the agent employed on the occaſion."

London, October 27. Laſt Saturday's Gazette contains his Majeſty's order in council, ſignifying, That his Majeſty having received information that the price of wheat in the port of London has been, for two ſucceſſive market-days, above 42s. the quarter, Winchеſter meaſure, his Majeſty thereforn prohibits the making, extracting, or diſtilling of any kind of law wines or ſpirits from any wheat, wheat-meal, wheat flour, and wheat bran, or any mixture therewith, until 24 days after the commencement of the next ſeſſion of parliament.

Letters from Poland adviſe, that all the different corps of troops had taken the oath to the general confederacy, except the King's body guards.

The ſame letters add, that a ſtrong report prevailed at the departure of the poſt, that a conſiderable corps of Ottoman troops had taken poſt near Choczim, a frontier place of their country, oppoſite Kaminiech.

October 31. A letter from Warſaw ſays, "The Staroſte of Koſakowſki, who had dropt ſome unguarded expreſſions againſt the crown of Ruſſia, was carried off the 7th of this month by a detachment of about ſixty Ruſſian troops. It was done by relays of horſes in the evening, after he had remained the whole day under arreſt in his own coach, at the doors of which were placed double guards to prevent any perſon's approaching to ſpeak to him."

Letters from Aſtracan, adviſe, that above a thouſand buildings in that capital have been conſumed by fire.

November 5. They write from Liſbon, that an amneſty has been publiſhed, by the King's order, for all deſerters to join their regiments.

Moſcow, Sept. 24. The deputation from the two general confederacies of Poland and Lithuania to the empreſs, arrived here the 19th inſtant. They paid their firſt viſit to the privy-counſellor Panin the day before yeſterday, and it is thought they will have an audience of her imperial majeſty the 28th.

Warſaw, October 14. The aſpect of public affairs in this kingdom becomes every day more alarming. The interval between the 6th and 12th inſtant, being the day to which the dyet was prorogued, was employed in uſing every expedient to bring thoſe into a favorable diſpoſition, who had oppoſed the plan propoſed by Prince Charles de Radzivil; but all the meaſures taken for this purpoſe proved ineffectual. The dyet ſat on the day fixed, but proved extremely tumultuous. The biſhop of Cracovia, the biſhop of Kiovia, ſome other prelates, and ſome of the magnats, declared that they would never conſent to the eſtabliſhment of a commiſſion furniſhed with full power to enter into conference with the Ruſſian ambaſſador, at the ſame time ſpoke with more vehemence than ever againſt the pretenſions of the Diſſidents. Some of the deputies replied to this with great warmth; and the animoſity among them roſe to ſuch degree, that the marſhal of the dyet prorogued the meeting to the 16th inſtant.

The day after the tumultuous meeting above mentioned, the biſhop of Cracovia, the biſhop of Kiovia, count Rzewuſki, the waywode of Cracovia, and his ſon, and ſome other deputies, were carried off by ſome detachments of the Ruſſian troops, and have not ſince been heard of. This ſtep has intimidated ſome of the deputies, but others do not regard it. The biſhops and noblemen above-mentioned, are much blamed by ſome people for the unguarded expreſſions which they made uſe of when they ſpoke of the powers in favour of the Diſſidents. On the other hand, it is alledged that every deputy at the dyet ought to ſpeak his ſentiments freely, and that if he exceeds the bounds of decency, towards any of the foreign powers, it is the buſineſs of the tribunals of the kingdom to proceed againſt him in a judicial manner.

In this critical ſituation the King will have need of all his wiſdom, and the whole force of his capacity to deviſe means to ſtop the turbulent diſpoſition of the members of the dyet. It is to be feared that the next meeting will be as turbulent as the former, and it is highly probable, that many of the members will inſiſt upon the noblemen, who have been carried off, being fet at liberty, before any further debates.

London, November 7. Letters from Liſbon, dated Sept. 20, ſay, "The king has iſſued an edict, by which his majeſty forbids his ſubjects of all ranks and conditions to accept of any letters of fraternity from the Jeſuits; and orders, at the ſame time, all thoſe who have engaged themſelves in any aſſociation with that ſociety to renounce the ſame, it being his majeſty's pleaſure, that no regard be paid to the Bull of the court of Rome, dated the 10th of Sept. 1766, beginning with the words, Animarum Saluti, &c. Laſtly, the king enjoins all thoſe who continue to have any connection with the ſaid fathers, to quit his dominions immediately."

We hear that a new-born prince is to be named Edward-Auguſtus, after his late royal highneſs the duke of York.

Yeſterday morning Henry Dennis, Eſq; admiral on half-pay in his majeſty's navy, was ſeized with an apoplectic fit, at his houſe in Falcon-court, Southwark, which carried him off in a few minutes.

Extract of a letter from Warſaw, October 21.

"On the 14th the Ruſſian ambaſſador ſecured the the papers of the prince biſhop of Cracow, who had been arreſted the preceding evening.

"On the 15th the great chancellor of the crown reſigned the ſeals into the king's hands.

"Next day the Dyet met, and was adjourned for fifteen days.

"It has been reſolved to appoint ſixty commiſſaries with full power to treat with the ambaſſador of Ruſſia; and the dyet is limited to the firſt of February next.

"The Ruſſian troops are marching towards the palatinate of Cracow, where an hundred noble families have leagued againſt the confederacies, and aſſembled 6000 men, who have already ſlain ſome Ruſſians."

Leghorn, October 7. They write from Algayola, that when the Corſicans re-entered that place, after the retreat of the French, they found in a ſmall fort, waſhed by the ſea, nine pieces of cannon, 60 barrels of powder, and other ammunition. The town of Algayola, which is ſurrounded with high walls, was entirely diſmantled by the Corſicans in 1732, when they began the war with the Genoeſe; but it has ſince been repaired. There is now a body of troops in it, and the inhabitants are admitted to offices and employments in the republick.

London, November 10. Private letters from Madrid inform, that ſome very important advices had juſt been received from New Spain, which had occaſioned a grand council, the reſult of which was kept ſecret from the public.

Letters from Conſtantinople of the 1ſt of October bring advice of a fire in the ſuburb of Pera, which had deſtroyed between forty and fifty houſes, amongſt which were the hotels of the Ruſſian, Dutch, and Neapolitan ambaſſadors; and that of the French ambaſſador was conſiderably damaged.

Warſaw, Oct. 21. We know not yet what is become of the biſhops of Cracow and Kiow: Some ſay they have been carried to Wengefow, the head quarters of the Ruſſian troops. Count Rzewuſki, lieutenant-general of the crown, is ſet out in order to ſupplicate the empreſs of Ruſſia to give orders for releaſing his father and elder brother.

At the ſecond meeting of the Dyet, the Nuncio of Podolia declared that when religion and liberty were in queſtion he feared neither impriſonment nor death.

At the third meeting, the king made a very remarkable ſpeech, and concluded with deſiring the correſpondence between the confederation and Ruſſia might be read, when it appeared that the confederates themſelves had even preſſed for the aſſiſtance of the Ruſſian troops.

Eſcurial, October 22. This morning his excellency ſir James Gray, his Britannic majeſty's ambaſſador extraordinary & plenipotentiary, had the honour of a private audience of the King of Spain, and met with a moſt gracious reception.

Warſaw, October 22. It is ſaid that the biſhop of Cracow is carried through Lithuania into Ruſſia, along with the other parties arreſted. Prince de Repnin publiſhed on this occaſion, a declaration, which gave riſe to the King's pronouncing a diſcourſe, in which he delivered himſelf in the following terms, "There is little knowledge required to govern a veſſel when the winds are favourable. A ſkilful pilot ſhould know how to withſtand the ſtorm without abandoning the helm. I have ſeveral times entertained the deſign, as I ſtill do, of abdicating the crown, the burden of which I feel, but that love for my country made me alter my reſolution. You ought all, gentlemen, to conſider the melancholy circumſtances which you have drawn upon us. I have conſtantly employed all my endeavours for the good of the ſtate: but few among you have aſſiſted me with your ſupport; and I find myſelf abandoned by the greater part; yet I can aſſure you, that if I had taken the courſe of abandoning you in my turn, you would now have found yourſelves in a miſerable ſituation."

Vienna, Oct. 24. It is reported that the Archdutcheſs Maria-Carolina, who is a year and ſome months younger than the late princeſs Joſepha, is deſtined in marriage for the king of the Two Sicilies.

Paris, Oct. 30. The government has two intereſting projects in hand; one for aboliſhing the excluſive privileges of the different bodies of merchants and tradeſmen, as being prejudicial to induſtry and commerce; and the other (which certainly tends to the ſame end, of rendering the kingdom rich and populous) for granting condition of citizen to the proteſtants, and permitting all thoſe who have left France to return and enjoy the ſame rights with the Catholicks.

London, November 12. We hear a ſelect committee of Portugal merchants will in a few days attend the levee of his Majeſty's miniſtry, on affairs of importance relative to the trade with that kingdom.

Yeſterday there was a levee at St. James's; and afterwards there was a privy-council, which did not break up till paſt four o'clock. The Right Hon. the Earl of Northington, who lately arrived in town, had the honour of having a long conference with his Majeſty.

They write from Perth, that the journeymen weavers reſiding in that town and county, apprehenſive that they ſhall ſoon be over-run with a multitude of their brethren from London, have openly declared their determined reſolution to oppoſe them and their abettors to the utmoſt of their power.

November 14. They write from Madrid, that the continual rains that have lately fallen in Spain, had laid ſome parts of the province of Andaluſia under water, by which many perſons, and a great number of cattle, periſhed.

Some letters from Naples inform, that an epidemical diſtemper is broke out among the horned cattle in that neighbourhood, which fall down and die ſuddenly without any previous ſymptoms.

November 17. A letter from the Hague, dated Nov. 10, ſays, "The Prince Stadtholder and his princeſs made their publick entry into this town yeſterday with extraordinary magnificence."

They write from Paris, that ſince the news of the death of the Archdutcheſs Joſepha, the French king had determined to have his grand-children inoculated in the month of April next, by M. Hoſty, a phyſician of great experience in that operation.

Laſt week died at Hexham, David Chambers, weaver, aged 100. He was in the army upwards of 30 years; and was under the duke of Marlborough in all his campaigns. His behaviour during that period was ſuch as gained him the eſteem of his ſuperiors, and juſtly invited him to an offer of that aſylum which numbers are glad to enjoy by petition. In the laſt war, notwithſtanding he was upwards of 90 years of age, he again joined the army, and had the honour to fight under prince Ferdinand on the plains of Minden; from thence he returned again to Hexham, mounted the loom, and continued working thereat till within a very little time of his death.

CHARLES-TOWN, February 1.

THE General Aſſembly of this province adjourned laſt ſaturday, to tueſday the 16th inſtant.—Upon a motion for continuing the additional duty on negroes imported, a majority appeared againſt it, by which the Prohibition will ceaſe the 1ſt of January next.

To-morrow begin the Charles-Town RACES at New-Market Courſe, when the following horſes are entered to run, viz. For the Plate for aged horſes, &c. carrying weight for age, William-Henry Drayton, Eſq;'s colt Partner, riſing five, got by Brutus; Samuel Elliott, Eſq;'s horſe Daffodil, formerly Lord Godolphin's; and Thomas Lynch, Eſq;'s horſe Havanna.—Even Money has been betted, that Daffodil will be diſtanced, if both Partner and Havana ſtart, and that becauſe the weights are ſo diſproportioned between the colts and aged horſes.

The following are alſo entered, for the colt and fillies plate on Wedneſday, viz, Edward Fenwicke, Eſq;'s roan colt Forreſter, got by Brutus; Mr. James Riddle's bay colt Looby, got by Skim; Mr. Jonah Atchiſon's cheſnut colt Tryal, got by Cade, and who beat Hotſpur at Winyah; Benjamin Elliott, Eſq;'s brown colt Julius Cæſar, got by Phaeton: Mr. Ja. Ravenel's bay colt True-blue, got by Starling; and William Williamſon, Eſq;'s cheſnut filly Cordova, got by Cade. — Great ſport is expected the ſecond day. Tryal is the favourite; but as there is ſo good a field, the odds muſt be high againſt him.

The gentlemen of the Jockey-Club, we hear, are to make ſome regulations for the firſt day's ſport in future, in order that the aged horſes may have a chance to win.

At the court of general ſeſſions of the peace, oyer and terminer, aſſize and general jail delivery, begun and holden on monday the 18th paſt, and ending the 23d, thirty indictments were given out to the grand jury, twenty-three of which were returned true bills; and the following perſons were convicted, (on whom ſentence was paſſed at an adjournment of ſaid court laſt friday) viz. George Burns, Thomas Gray, and Arthur Sikes, (the latter recommended to mercy) of robbing and moſt inhumanly torturing John Scott, Eſq; near New-Windſor, commonly called ready-money Scott; to be hanged on wedneſday the 10th inſtant: James Spikes, of horſe-ſtealing; James Aſhworth, of breaking jail; both to be burnt in the hand with the letter T, which was accordingly done in court: James Nesbitt, of [illegible] harcery; to receive 39 laſhes upon the bare back, at the uſual corners, on tueſday next, and again on tueſday the 9th inſtant: George Roberts, of cauſing P. Williams to be whipt by negroes; to pay a fine of £. 20 proclamation money: Robert Hunter, of killing a negro; to pay a fine of £. 350 current money: A woman, of keeping a diſorderly houſe; to pay a fine of £. 6 proclamation money. Six other perſons were found guilty, of aſſaults, and ſeverally fined. The reſt ſtand over for trial at the ſeſſions to be holden on the third monday in April next.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

The PRESENTMENTS of the GRAND JURORS for the Body of this Province at a Court of General Seſſions of the Peace, Oyer and Terminer, Aſſize and General Goal Delivery, begun and holden in Charles Town, on Monday the 18th Day of January, 1768.

I. WE preſent as a grievance, the want of the province acts to be printed, and properly digeſted under diſtinct heads.

II. We preſent as a grievance, the evil cuſtom of giving negroes their freedom; and the want of a law to oblige every free negro to wear a badge with their names thereon, by which they may be known.

III. We preſent as a grievance through the province, the want of a patrol duty being done; and ſubmit it to the legiſlature, whether a provincial or parochial tax, to ſupport the expence of a ſtanding patrol, to be conſtantly on duty, would not better anſwer the intentions of apprehending fugitive ſlaves and other good purpoſes.

IV. We preſent as a grievance, ſo many idle negro wenches, ſelling dry goods, cakes, rice, &c. in the markets, which hinder a great many poor people from getting bread.

V. We preſent as a grievance, the want of lamps in Charles-Town.

VI. We preſent as a grievance, the number of ſmall licenſed tippling houſes, who ſell ſpirituous liquors to ſailors and negroes,

VII. We preſent as a grievance, the want of public ſchools in the back parts of this province, for the education and inſtruction of the children of poor people who are ſettled there, and the want of a law to hinder unqualified people preaching through the province.

VIII. We preſent as a grievance, the want of a proper work-houſe and poor houſe, ſeparate from each other.

IX. We preſent as a grievance, the want of a proper place of landing and ſtoring of naval ſtores and hemp, as thoſe articles are too frequently ſtored on the wharves, and in the ſtores and cellars in the centre and many other parts of the town, to the great danger thereof.

X. We preſent as a grievance, the want of a law for cleanſing of New and Wappoo Cut, as the preſent condition of the former makes the navigation therein very dangerous, and the detention of boats in the latter is obvious to all concerned; and alſo, a law for opening and making navigable the cut commonly called Elliott's cut.

XI. We preſent as a grievance, the want of a proper fiſh-market, and a proper guard to be placed at the magazine.

XII. We preſent Joſeph Turpin, for keeping a diſorderly gaming-houſe, to the great prejudice of the youth of this town, on information of Timothy Phillips.

XIII. We preſent Daniel Pepper, Eſq; for extortion in his office of a juſtice of the peace for Granville county, and for ill practice in his ſaid office, on information of Richard Proctor.

For SALE,

THE schooner SALLY, Carolina built, burthen about two hundred barrels of rice, not more than eighteen months old; a very handy vessel, and well fitted and found with every necessary, of as small a draught of water of most schooners that carry no more than 150 barrels, and a remarkable fast sailer; is well calculated for the West India or coasting business. The purchaser may have this great advantage in buying her, that if she is continued in the coasting business, and the same captain employed that goes now in her (who can be well recommended for his diligence and sobriety) the shall have the freight of sixteen or eight hundred barrels of rice during the remainder of the season at 15 s. per barrel. The vessel is sold for no other reason than that she cannot go up many of the little creeks the owner intended she should, except at high tides. The purchaser, paying interest, and giving security if required) may have two or three months credit. An inventory may be seen in my hands, who am impowered to sell her, and who will supply any quantity of rough rice staves and heads on the shortest notice; also a large quantity of green firewood, to be laid at a landing three miles above Ashley ferry. EDWARD LEGGE

Takes this public method of giving Notice,

To all whom it may concern,

THAT he is come to a DETERMINED RESOLUTION, not to give credit to any person or persons whosoever that shall hereafter have occasion to pass or re-pass his ferry, except to such as shall enter into a written agreement for that purpose by the year, and will be punctual in making QUARTERLY payments; ten years experience, in making bad debts, and the trouble of collecting the rest, having taught him, that it is not worth any man's while to keep books for such trifling sums.

And, tho' very little notice has been taken of his former advertisements, of nearly the same nature, for two years past, he hopes a due regard will be paid to THIS, that he may not be under the disagreeable necessity of retarding any one on his journey, which he will certainly do (without distinction of persons) with all who come unprovided with money to pay as they go.

The necessity of paying his own debts having obliged him to come to this resolution, and he having given sufficient previous notice thereof in all the gazettes, no gentleman can take amiss his strict adherence thereto.

At the same time, he entreats the favour of all persons indebted to him, to discharge the same forthwith.
